NUMBER 8.

THE RECORD-PRESS FROM THE FARMERS ARE REUNITED AFTER PRIZE CONTEST UNION 40 YEARS

Next Count Will be Made As Previously Advertised Saturday August 27.

Never have we seen such interest in a contest and for the short time it has run, never has there been so large vote cast.

The piano will arrive today and can be seen and tested at Yandell-Gugenheim's store where it is to remain until the close of the contest, Saturday, Oct. 29 at 6 o'clock p. m.

Ten Dollars in gold will be given Saturday Aug. 27 to the one making the greatest gain since the last count.

For want of space we are cutting out the page ad and for the benefit of those wanting to benefit the lady of their choice with all votes possible, will give the names of those offering premiums and where 25 votes are given for every dollar purchased of them.

Yandell-Gugenheim, Co., $15 Ladies cloak, Mrs. Love $15 Ladies Hat, W. O. Tucker Furniture Co., $15 Dresser, J. L. Stewart, $15 in Photographs, Morris & Travis, $10 set of Rogers 1847, Silver knives and forks.

Haynes & Taylor do not give any present, but give a coupon of 25 votes for every one dollar spent with them.

Remember the ballot box is in the Marion Bank where you can deposit your votes if you do not want to send them to us.

For every club of five dollars we issue five thousand votes. Do not forget this.

BASE BALL

Marion defeated Sturgis by a score of 2 to 0 Friday afternoon in one of the best games of base ball ever seen in Maxwell park, the fielding of the home team was almost perfect Carroll pulled down two drives in the first inning both of which looked like extra base hits. Ramsey who did the slab work for Marion pitched a wonderful game he held the Sturgis team to two hits one of which was a scratch struck out six men and never allowed a Sturgis man to get past second base. Price the big left handed twirler was on the mound for Sturgis and pitched a good game but in the second inning he served one to Guy Lamb who was the first man up, which just suited him and he drove it through the infield so swiftly that it did not stop until it had reached the ditch and the man who hit it was camping on third base, Cannan then bunted safely down in the first base line and Lamb scored. Marion scored again in the sixth when Brahic reached first on a fielder choice took second on Shrock's error and scored when Rudy fumbled Lamb's hot grounder.

Batteries—Price and Shrock, Ramsey and Brahic.

Three base hits—Lamb Stolen bases Shrock. Struck out by Ramsey 6 by Price 3. Bases on balls off Ramsey 2 off Price 1. Time of game 1 hr. 40 min. Umpire Travis.

Misses Margaret Blackman and Imogene Varna, of Evansville, who have been the guests of Misses Bernice and Maud Driskill, left Saturday for home.

Resolutions Passed by The State Meeting of the F. E. & C. U. of A At Central City.

Resolved 1st: That considering the present condition of our organization and business enterprise throughout the state which need the guiding hand of a man experienced and familiar with all these conditions, we would respectfully recommend that our present state secretary-treasury R. L. Barnett be re-elected and continue to have charge of the organizing and lecturing department, as he now has under the constitution, as he is familiar with all the conditions as they now exist, better than any other man in the state.

2nd. That we demand of Congress a law to exempt from persecution members of all labor and farm organization who pool their produce.

3rd. That we demand of Congress a law that will establish the income tax and we demand of our legislators, the adoption of the resolution passed by Congress for amendment to the constitution of the U. S. for the income tax.

4th. That we demand of our legislature the establishment of a text book for common schools on scientific agriculture, horticulture and dairying, and to establish an agricultural experiment station in each congressional district in the state.

5th. That we send a committee of our best men before our legislature to urge the passage of such laws as we believe to be just and equitable, and that our executive committee take such steps as are necessary to carry out their resolutions and that our members write personal letters to their respective members of the legislature, urging them to vote such measures.

6th. That we demand of our legislature, a law to submit to the voters, a law for the initiative and referendum to the constitution of the state.

7th. That we demand of our legislature, a law that will determine the physical valuation of all the rail road property in the state, similar to same law in Texas.

8th. That we demand of our legislature, the enactment of a law to exempt from taxation, the unpaid amount due on real estate or any mortgage on same like the Indian law.

9th. That we demand of Congress the establishment of the parcels post, similar to the law we have under agreement with other leading nations.

10th. That we demand of Congress, a law which will prevent the dealing in futures on all farm products.

11th. That we are opposed to any effort either private or public to pour into our state the tide of immigration of a class of immoral, ignorant pauper labor, to be settled among our people to associate with our children in public school and society.

12th. That we instruct our secretary to select such resolutions as pertain to the public, and have them published in such papers as he may decide.

13th. That we extend our thanks and appreciations for the hospitality of the city officials

Sister Recognizes Brother She Parted From Four Decades Ago In Germany.

After an unbroken separation of forty years, brother and sister, parted in Rhine province, Germany, when both were young children, met in Dr. M. Ravdin's office here yesterday morning.

In the Rhine province, forty years ago, little 14-year-old Frederica Baum kissed her little 4-year-old brother, Leo, a farewell as she left the home of her parents for the great country of America, to visit her uncle, B. Baum, a merchant in Evansville. She lived with her uncle four years and then married M. E. Fohs of Marion, Ky. She continued to write home and the rosy picture of this great free country she pictured to her folks at home made the little brother get the wanderlust.

Ten years after his sister had gone he packed his clothes in a bundle and with a companion took ship for America. Little did he think that America was such a large place that he would not be able to walk to his sister's home after leaving the vessel. He landed in New York. There he worked awhile and wrote to his sister that he was in the same country with her. They corresponded continually during their separation.

After living in New York for several years Leo became engaged in business in Livermore, Maine. Years passed by and he became a prosperous merchant. Business called him away from his home but never further than New York and his sister continued to wait to see her brother in Marion.

Last week Louis Baum now 46 years old, was called to Evansville on business. He wrote to his sister of the good news and waited before starting on his journey to hear from her.

Instead of meeting her brother who she would not know at the train, Mrs. Fohs, 55 years old made arrangements for him to come to the office of Dr. Ravdin, her family physician. When she came into the office yesterday morning Baum and another man about his age were standing together.

"Which is your brother?" asked the Dr.

With her tear-wet eyes intently bent on both men she did not hesitate but threw her arms around her brother and broke into tears. The two old children clasped in each other's arms after the long separation sobbed and kissed as they had done forty years ago in Germany. They were still crying at the pleasure of meeting and sorrow of seeing a touch of gray in each other's hair.

Brother and sister had met again but only to separate in a few hours. Louis Baum had to leave for Chicago at noon and Mrs. Fohs had to return to her home in Marion, Ky., shortly afterwards, with promises to each other of spending next Christmas together.

M. & F. ACADEMY Providence, Kentucky.

- 1 A School for those who desire to teach or to enter college.
- 2 Courses leading to the County and the State Examination.
- 3 Classes in the Higher Branches will be organized when the number desiring to take is sufficient to justify a class, and the need demands it.
- 4 A strict but easy running discipline.
- 5 Under the present management this Institution has prepared a sufficient number of young people for teaching in the public schools and for entering college to instruct nearly or quite all the children in a whole congressional district at one time.
- 6 Excellent opportunities for young people to do light housekeeping and attend the Academy and thereby reduce the cost of attending school to the lowest possible figures.
- 7 In many respects the Institution is far superior to any college for young people in general. Investigate before deciding to attend elsewhere.
- 8 School opens on Monday, Sept. 5, 1910, and continues nine months until the first teachers examination.
- 9 Correspondence solicited.

Very Respectfully,
J. Y. BROWN,
Principal M. and F. Academy.

Mr. Harry Hard a young man of worth and character was suddenly stricken with paralysis of the heart last Saturday night and died in a few moments. He was the son of T. P. Hard a prosperous and well known farmer of the Frances-Dyeusburg neighborhood and a nephew of A. S. Hard, of this place. This stroke of paralysis makes the second to strike the young man within the year, and the second stroke was more or less expected. He was about twenty-four years old and well liked by all who knew him.

A REWARD

It Was Not For Timidity

By HARRY C. ERNST

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

I arose after a night's journey in a sleeping car, made my toilet in the wash room at the end of the car, and when I returned to my berth it was made up. I found there the occupant of the upper berth, a stock looking gentleman, well dressed and apparently prosperous, but with an anxious expression on his face that he could not conceal. He seemed to find it difficult to sit still and kept furtively looking about him as though he expected some one to pounce upon him.

We were entering Chicago and before reaching the terminal stopped at a suburban station. By this time my section mate looked so frightened that he was entirely unable to conceal his feelings. Standing up, he cast a glance out the window, hesitated, then, seizing his suit case, hurried from the train.

We had no sooner started again than, casting a glance at my own suit case, which had stood on the floor beside that of the departed passenger, I noticed that my name did not appear on its end. I quickly examined the other end, but it was not there either. I knew that my suit case bore my name and my city, so I at once made up my mind that the man who had occupied the other berth had taken mine instead of his own. I took out my key to see if I could open the one remaining, but it did not fit.

It struck me that there was something wrong with the man who had exchanged suit cases. Supposing he were a fugitive from justice, if I were found with his baggage I might be mistaken for him and get into trouble. It would be impossible for me to reach him and inform him of his mistake. I must go on to the depot without my suit case. He would discover my name and address on it, and since my residence was in Chicago he would, if honest, drop me a line through the postoffice.

But what should I do with his suit case? Did I not suspect him I would take it with me and return it to him when he returned mine. As it was, I dreaded to be found with it in my possession.

There was a young man sitting in the section opposite me. He looked rather seedy and melancholy. Beside him was a suit case. Just before entering the station he went to the other end of the car. Taking advantage of his absence, I changed suit cases with him. When he returned, since we were under cover of the station, the car was quite dark. He picked up the suit case I had placed on his seat and went out with it among the throng of passengers.

I waited patiently, expecting every day to receive a note from the man who had my suit case. I couldn't address him, for there was no name on the suit case I had taken. I received no communication and finally gave up expecting any. I determined to open the suit case I had in my possession to see if I could find anything inside indicating to whom it belonged.

Forcing the lock, I found within pieces of linen clothing, a paper novel and a few letters. The latter were not in envelopes bearing an address, and, in order to discover if there was anything in them to give me the information I wished, I read them. They were from a girl who was very unhappy at her lover leaving her to go to Chicago to seek his fortune. By mutual consent they had given up all hope of a union because the lover was poor and they couldn't afford to marry. I had gained this information before I came to the words, "I shall send your letters to No. — street." I knew this is to a Chicago street.

Here was what I wanted. I wrote a note to the young man stating that (by mistake he had not my suit case and if he had mine I would like to exchange with him.

I received no reply for some weeks; then I got a letter containing some remarkable information — information that made me regret my timidity of being mistaken for a criminal. Indeed, I no longer read the words that I desired to "kick" myself all over the three "sides" that compose Chicago. The young man told me that he had opened the suit case and in it had found a package of bank bills to the amount of $90,000. Seeing in newspaper telegraphic news from an eastern city of a bank robbery, he had communicated with the officers of the bank, returned the money and had received a reward of $9,000 for doing so. Meanwhile the police had got on the track of the robber, who had been the bank's paying teller, and he had been arrested. The young man added that it was supposed the guilty party had purposely chanced suit cases with him, not daring to face the police of Chicago, who might be watching for him. He wound up by apologizing for his long silence on the ground that he had been east to secure his reward and had brought back a wife with him.

So I had turned over $90,000 of stolen money to another, enabling him to reap $9,000 reward. But I had much consolation in the fact that I had been the means of uniting a pair of lovers who had given each other up. I met the young man and his wife afterward. They were making a fortune out of that reward.

While this young man made a clean $9,000 out of the operation, I lost my baggage, which contained a new $100 evening suit, with several valuable toilet articles.

AT WOOLEN MILLS

A GIGANTIC STOCK SALE

Will Equal the Union County Fair And for Those Wanting Fine Stock, More Profitable.

The great Stock Sale of the late Dr. J. O. Dixon to be seen on another page will prove the greatest event in stock circles ever taking place in this or adjoining counties.

Dr. Dixon was a great and good man and one of the greatest promoters of fine stock in Crittenden county. His farms were all stocked with the best registered stock to be had of horses, mules, hogs, cattle, and sheep and it has been said by those in a position to know, the best stocked farm in Western Kentucky.

And just so is it with his farm implements and farm machinery. No farm in many counties was better equipped with the latest modern implements and machinery than were the Dixon farms.

This sale will be of such magnitude that people will be there for many counties around for the reason that the quality of fine stock and high class machinery is so unusual and so tempting that it will prove a pleasure to them even though they may not buy.

Watch the day and dates as advertised, Tuesday Aug. 9 at his stock barn at Marion and Thursday and Friday Aug. 11-12 at his farm near Tolu.

DISASTROUS TO THE FARMERS

Losses In Every Region of Kentucky.—Green River Section
The Heaviest Sufferer.

Week before last was the most disastrous to the farmers of Kentucky that has ever been known. It is believed that the damage which was done crops by the rain and floods will reach the millions. The loss extended over many sections of the state though the heaviest was reported from the Green River section, the Bluegrass country around Danville and the country east of Louisville.

The Green River section suffered more than any other. Thousands of acres of land almost ready for the harvest were inundated. Creeks rose out of their banks, bridges were swept away, live stock and farm machinery destroyed. Water was up to the second stories of houses in many sections. Hundreds of farmers are facing ruins as a result.

Lightning has destroyed many houses and much live stock though no fatalities have been reported among the people of the stricken sections.

BIRTHDAY PICNIC

The little folks of the Repton Sunday School congregated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Fritts to celebrate their children's birthday, Saturday eve, July 30th; that day being baby Pearl's Third birthday. Master Elba was ten years old the 19th of same month, and little Miss Velma will be Eight the 28 of Sept. They decided to have their cakes made in one, and have their class mates come help eat it. The cakes weighed ten lbs.

Fifteen homes were represented. Twenty-nine children present. Their grandmother and grandfathers and other relatives came to see the children made merry. They certainly had a picnic.

Mrs. May Howerton deserves praise and has our thanks for the interest she manifested in teaching the children new plays and making the event pleasant. After tiring out at play they were marched to the front yard to partake of a lunch consisting of apples, cake, candy, nuts and popcorn, eating from picnic dishes, and like the multitude in the wilderness, were seated on the ground. Each one received several useful birthday presents, and little keepsakes. May these little people's lives grow brighter and brighter, and make the world better by them having lived in it.

AN AWFUL RECORD.

Every year thousand of men and women die of kidney disease who might have been cured if its presence had been discovered in time and a prompt treatment with Kidnets adopted. If you have backache, kidney trouble or other symptoms of kidney disease, begin using Kidnets immediately. Druggists and dealers sell it for 50 cents.

On last Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Butler, of Sullivan enjoyed the great pleasure of having their children with them for dinner. They were: Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Butler, of Marion, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Summers, of Loraine, Texas and Dr. and Mrs. Waddell, of Salem.

Miss Lillie Cook spent the first of the week with friends in Paducah.

FARM LABOR

Farm labor is very complete and serious problem and he who tries to solve it has quite a difficult job, but I do not know of anything (not even the telephone) that need system or standardizing as much as farm labor. Farm labor applies to all and in its various branches sets at naught the teachings of farm science. For what good is science without labor to perform? "The best laid plans of men and mice oft gang a-glee," and good farming requires that farm science, which is organized common sense, be put into effect before the best results can come from the farm. Labor ramifies every branch of farm life. The labor of this section is largely negro and it is not the object of this writer to do away with negro labor, but I want, as farming must be carried on, to make the labor we have better. I voice the idea of all farmers when I say it must be bettered or there will be more retired farmers flocking to your towns, and this retirement from farm life year by year increases the cost of living. Is high prices of farm product progress? If we had more and better labor on the farm cost of living would be reduced. We would then have true progress! This labor question is not local or confined to the negro, but every walk in life is affected more or less with this evil. The labor question can only be settled by a thorough standardization and systemizing. Now how to effect this is the problem we must solve and in a multiplicity of ideas or free exchange of opinion is our safety. Let us exchange ideas.

DOES YOUR BACK ACHE?

If it does you should know that backache is generally caused by weak kidneys. A medicine called "Kidnets" has all its ingredients printed on the label so that everyone may know just what is in it. It is the great kidney and bladder medicine. It stops frequent urination. Druggists and dealers sell it for 50c.

EIGHT CHARGED WITH KILLING

Verdict Of Coroner's Jury Into Cooper Tragedy in Lyon County

Paducah, Ky., Aug. 4—As a result of the inquisition into the killing of Axion Cooper by alleged night riders at a barbecue near Lamasco, in Lyon county, last Saturday, eight men were implicated by the coroner's jury. The accused are Roy Merrick, Victor Mitchell, Bryan Hawkins, Fraud Murphy, Alonzo Gray, Jim Bozarth, Bart Creekmur and Sunk Creekmur. The two latter reside in Trigg county, and have not been arrested. Gray and Bozarth are charged with being accessories. Soldiers will go after the Creekmur men. All of the other prisoners are in jail at Eddyville, having been surrendered to Sheriff T. C. Cash by Col. Bassett, of the State Guards.

Col. Bassett, who took the dying statement of Cooper, read it at the inquest held by Coroner Henry Avels. It stated that Bart and Spunk Creekmur did the shooting that killed Cooper. It also named Roy Merrick, Victor Mitchell, Bryan Hawkins and Fraud Murphy as being implicated. The evidence shows that fifty or seventy-five shots were fired, and that four of them took effect in Cooper's body. It also was proved that Cooper emptied his pistol, but none of the bullets took effect. A large number of people were present at the inquest.

Col. Bassett and Adjutant General P. P. Johnson, of Frankfort, were present at the inquest with a squad of soldiers to preserve order. No violence was offered. Adjutant General Johnson expressed himself as being surprised at the peaceable condition in which he found the county.

He ordered the soldiers to patrol the public highways to prevent further trouble. The verdict of the Coroner's jury was that Cooper came to his death at the hands of Roy Merrick, Victor Mitchell, Hawkins, Murphy and the two Creekmur men.

HOW TO CURD DCDMB, PIMPLDS; AND DANDRUFF

We desire to say that when we took the agency for Zemo, we were convinced that it was a valuable remedy for eczema, pimples, and dandruff. Yet we must frankly admit that eczema has far exceeded our expectations as a treatment for skin diseases. We are pleased to state that we shall continue the agency as Zemo has given splendid results wherever recommended. Our customers like Zemo too, because it is a clean vegetable liquid for external use.

Zemo effects its cures by drawing to the surface of the skin and destroying the germ life that causes the disease, leaving the skin clear and healthy. It does not soil the clothing or linen and can be used freely on infants.

With every purchase, we give a booklet on skin diseases explaining in simple words how any person can be cured at home of any form of skin or scalp disease by this clean, scientific remedy. Haynes & Taylor Druggists.

The white slave brutes are dressed up as angels of light, and are picking up the fairest, most beautiful and most innocent girls of our country, and selling them in their Dens of Vice and crime. From which they never get out alive.

More pavements are needed in Marion and brick or concrete instead of plank that warp so quick and fast they will not stay on the ground. A man in the out skirts of town needs to be forced to build pavements as well as the man up town.

The Editor has just returned from St. Louis where he was unexpectedly called on account of a company or a representative of their company, attempting to defraud him of quite a lot of money and the paper has been in the hands of the office force. And while it is true they have done the best they could and well, yet but for this trip the paper would have been better. While there looking for our money a part of which, through the aid of the police, we recovered, we saw Wendling the supposed murderer of Almer Kerner. That our reader will have no room for a kick next week we are sure.

When the whiskey papers paks of the deplete treasury in Georgia they say "Dry Georgia" has an empty treasury, meaning to imply that if she was "wet" she would have a full one. But they only want you to think their way, never for once to look on the other side and see if there is not more sober men in Georgia and more men with bank accounts than ever known in the history of the state, and if $100,000. is needed by the governor for current expenses, there are men now that could loan it that could not before she went dry. And the same men could and would be glad to have their taxes raised rather than see the treasury vaults full of money, at the expense of women and children or the life and honor of the thousands whom it has cursed.

Little Johnnie stood before the jail door weeping--cold, barefoot and in rags. "I'm eight years old; I have two little sisters younger than me; let us have papa's body after he is hung. Papa was a good man." It was not papa that killed mama. No, it was whiskey. Papa was a good man," said Johnnie. Little Johnnie is the head of the family now.

There are millions of desolate families in America now made so by the legalized and protected destroying angel.

Our city "Dads" need to cast an eye depoward where the space between the brick will measure nearly as much as the brick which is not a sight calculated to favorably impress visitors with our city. Surely if we cannot have as good depot as we should with the vast amount of shipping and passengers traffic given, we at least, could have a decent approach to it in the way of side walks. As you near the depot going down the hill it reminds one of the Rocky road to Dublin.

Eighteen of the legal voters of Fulton including Mott Ayers, have filed a petition setting at naught the recent local option election on the grounds, mainly, that men women and children congregated around the polling places on the morning of the election spending the day in song and prayer and pleading with men to vote dry. One other reason set forth was, that the ballot was so short that it was impossible for the voter to deliver to the Judges, without it becoming known how they voted. Strange that the man voting against the evil doesn't care for the world knowing how he voted while those voting for it are so ashamed they want to hide it. This of its self is an admission that it is a curse. Perhaps these 500 women and children in prayer hurts. But let them pray for they are the sufferers

THE AGE OF THE EARTH

During many years there was a disagreement between geologists and physicists in regard to the geological age of earth, which the geologists estimate to be at least 300 million years, while the physicists deduced, principally from thermodynamic considerations, the comparatively short age of 20 or 30 million years. Through the study of radiactively this old controversy seems now to have been decided in favor of the geologists. Some time ago Strutt deduced, from the proportion of helium found in thorium ores, a lower limit of 240 million years for the age of the earth. The same physicist has recently attempted to determine, by direct experiment, the rate at which helium is generated in thorianite and pitchblende. He found that the quantity of helium produced by 400 grammes of thorianite in 7 weeks was certainly less than 2 x 10--s cubic centimeters. From this it follows that one gramme of thorite generates less than 3.7 x 10--6 cubic centimeters of helium per year. Hence at least 240 million years must be allowed for the accumulation of the 9 cubic centimeters of helium which are actually found in each gramme of freshly mined thorianite. The experiment with pitchblende gave a value for the rate of production of helium which is of the same order of magnitude as the value calculated by Rutherford, but as the results are not regarded as absolutely certain experiments on a larger scale have been commenced. At all events the geologists' estimates of the age of the earth appear to be much nearer the truth than the estimates formerly made by physicists. Scientific American, even for generations to come. Not only were Kentuckians proud of him as a representative in Congress, but the nation as well and thus for the high esteem in which he was held he was made Speaker of the House and served with more distinction than any man before him or since. In his death Kentuckians feel to have lost one of the greatest men the proud old state ever boasted.

NEBRASKA CONVENTION

The Nebraska democratic state convention refused, by a vote of 647 to 198, to endorse county option and this has been heralded over the country as a defeat for Mr. Bryan. Let all the facts be known: About May 1 Mr. Bryan urged the calling of a special session of the legislature to submit the initiative and referendum. He stated that by the submission of the initiative and referendum the county option fight could be postponed for two years. He failed to secure the special session. Then he announced himself in favor of an endorsement of county option as the only way to break the hold of liquor interests and insure the submission of the initiative and referendum.

As a result of his fight the republicans endorsed the initiative and referendum, thus making it certain that will be submitted at the coming session of the legislature (the democrats and populists also having endorsed it.) This is a victory for the reform for which he has contended for fourteen years. He can afford to be turned down on county initiative and referendum.

But the democrat convention defeated, by a vote 638 to 202 a plank declaring against county and Governor Shallenberger announced at the convention that he would sign a county option bill. Since the republicans and populists have declared for county option and the democrats have refused to declare against it the chances are largely in favor of the passage of a county option bill. It will be seen, therefore, that Mr. Bryan has reason to rejoice over the progress made in Nebraska. It matters little what is done to him; he can be happy so long as the things he is fighting for win--and they are winning in Nebraska.

DO YOU WANT GOOD FLOUR

To the farmers of Caldwell and adjoining counties:

The Fredonia Mill has been shut down for sometime for repair but expect to start not later than Aug. 4 and will keep on hands at all times a full line of flour and meal. We are going to give the farmers for their wheat a pure straight grade flour. By this we don't mean a straight grade with 60 to 90 per cent. patent drawn out as some mills do but a pure straight flour with no patent taken out. Give us a trial and be convinced.

AT HILL SPRINGS

A crowd of "Old Heads" from Marion went to Hill Springs Tuesday afternoon and engaged in a game of ball against that nine. The game was closely contested from start to finish the Marionites winning by the score of 1 to 0. The score was made in the first inning by a single of J. H. Orme followed by a three base hit of Cochran. W. B. Yandell umpired and none of his decisions were questioned.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this method to try to thank the good people of Marion for the kindness and help they gave us in the last saddest days of our lives. But we find we have no language to express our gratitude, we can only pray that Heavens greatest blessings may be theirs while they live, and that the joys of Heaven may be theirs when their deeds of kindness are done on earth. Now trying to thank you again, we shall always remain your friend. J. S. G. GREEN AND CHILDREN.

HER BANK ACCOUNT

By J. ANTHONY TWINING

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

A man suffragette and a man anti-suffragette were discussing the question of votes for women. The suffragette led off by stating that women often owned property and were entitled to vote for those who made the laws affecting their interests. A widow, for instance, had not even a husband to represent her. A woman who might have more business ability than many men—

"What's that you say about a woman having business ability?" interrupted the anti.

"I said that a woman might—"

"Do you include my wife?"

"I haven't the pleasure of an acquaintance with your wife."

"If you had you would never have made that statement."

"Is your wife a poor business woman?"

"You just try her in a matter of banking."

"Not up to that, eh?"

"I should say not. When I married her she had some funds and insisted on managing them herself. I opened a bank account for her and tried to teach her how to keep it. She learned very quickly what the check book was for, but the pass book baffled her. I brought down her balances for her in the check book, so that she would know how much she had in bank."

"One day I handed her her pass book that had just been balanced at the bank. She looked at the figures and seemed very much pleased. Then she went off and looked at her check book balance. Soon after that she presented me with a fur lined coat as a surprise. It was not long before she received a surprise herself in the shape of a notice from the bank that her account was overdrawn. She came to me to ask what it meant. I told her, and she left me with a puzzled look on her face."

"A few days later I received a polite note from the cashier asking me if I would kindly call at the bank. I did so, and he received me with a peculiar smile. Taking me into a private office where no one would hear, he told me that he had sent my wife notice that her account was overdrawn to the amount of $350. Then he showed me a note from her, in which she inclosed her check on his own bank for the amount to square the account."

"Your wife is not used to keeping a bank account, I take it," he remarked in kindly consideration of my feelings.

"Oh, yes, she is," I replied. "I've told her all about it."

"It can't be a mistake of ours."

"No; a mistake of mine. I should have told you that she can't learn just how the trick is done. I'll give you a check for her overdraft."

"I wrote him a check and that evening asked my wife how she expected to wipe out an overdraft in that way. She was very much surprised and disgruntled. I thought that I'd better look into her check and pass books, and what do you suppose I found? When a short time before I had handed her her newly balanced pass book she had noticed that the balance brought down was $350 to her credit. The balance I had brought down for her in her check book was $30. There were checks out not yet presented at the bank for $24. Being a mathematical prodigy, she figured that if she had $340 in the pass book and $30 in her check book she must have a balance of $370. She at once determined, in the generosity of her dear innocent heart, to spend it in a fur lined coat for me. I paid for the coat, and it furnished food for the moths."

"She was so disgruntled at her inability to manage her account that she said she would draw out all her money and give up banking. I asked her what money she referred to. She said that since I had paid the overdraft there must be several hundred dollars to her credit. Rather than try to explain to her that the account had been closed I deposited $400 in bank, and she drew a check for it, and in this way the matter was settled."

"Well, there was no more trouble after this till one day I left her to go on a business trip. In my check book I left a check payable to her order for a blank amount duly signed, so that if she needed money she could fill in the amount she required and get it at the bank. During my absence she ran short of money. A bill for perfume came in for $4.25. She filled in this amount, drew the money and paid the bill."

"The next day she needed more money. She submitted the case to a friend, who advised her to write a check for all the funds she would need till my return, take it to the bank, and they, knowing she was my wife, would probably cash it. Instead of taking it there herself she sent it."

"Well, she got the money. But when I came back, happening in at the bank one day, the cashier greeted me with another grin, this time more idiotic than before, handing me at the same time the check my wife had drawn, to which she had signed my name."

"Great heavens! It was a forgery. I couldn't have written my name any better myself."

"I took the thing home and showed it to her."

"Why, I supposed," she said, "I should sign your name as nearly as you sign it as possible."

"No, sir; women are no good for keeping bank accounts."

HAILED TO GET MARRIED

On last Thursday a young couple claiming to hail from Rosiclare, Ill., presented themselves before County Clerk. Guess for a marriage license, but as they admitted passing through Elizabethtown, when it is much easier to get married than in points in Kentucky, and looking too young for the marriageable age here, were refused the papers that were to be the most important to them at this time than all else in the world.

DEATHS

Mrs. Lizzie McReynolds Roscoe, wife of Dr. J. F. Roscoe died at the Roscoe home near Julien, Christian county Tuesday July 26.

Dr. Roscoe is a brother of Prof. J. W. Roscoe the highly honored President of the Crittenden County Farmers Union, who was on a visit to his brother when death entered their home.

On last Saturday morning Mr. C. S. Nunn received notification by wire from his brother, Jno. L. Nunn, of Portland, Ore., of the very sudden death of his little daughter, Lemah.

Marion Ryan was found dead in three miles of Florence Station in McCracken county near rail road track.

The coroner's jury rendered a verdict that he came to his death by having been struck by some weapon or the train.

Deceased was a former resident of the neighborhood of Marion, and brother to Jess H. and Jno. Ryan respected farmers of Crittenden county. His remains were interred at Sikeston, Mo., where for the past four years he had made his home, as have his brothers, Ed, Charley and Harvey Ryan.

REV. T. M. HURST ON BAY OF NAPLES

In Sight of Venice, Puffing Away
Like a Dago Smoking a Cigarette

I do not recall where I wrote you last but it has been ten days or two weeks and we have been on the move. I am writing from Sorrento on the Bay of Naples and as I look out of my window across the bay I see Vesuvius puffing away like a Dago smoking a cigarette only on a larger scale. We were in old Pompeii the other day and as we saw the smoke from the summit of "Vesuvius" and looked at the bodies of men, women, dogs, cats and chickens that were destroyed nearly 2,000 years ago and as we walked through the silent streets and into the vacant homes and shops of these unfortunate people we could not keep back a kind of a shudder and one woman said: do you suppose that there is any danger, and the guide said: no, no, no, we have not had an eruption since 1909, but the earthquakes come just below us in Sicily, and then we remembered Messina and longed for good old America.

We have spent two nights under the smoking mountains and have three more to spend, but most of the party are willing to get away from here. The famous Amalfi Drive helped us to forget the volcano and it was to us all intensely interesting. At Venice we stayed in the old Castle of Barberigo and one night recently we stayed in another old Castle and yesterday lunched in an old Convent and last night we slept in a modern hotel with windows looking out over the sea and a way to Naples. We go to the island of Capri today and on to Naples for the night and then in two or three days more to Rome. We spent several days in Florence and Venice and in them found many interesting things. Venice has no horses nor carriages nor street cars, but the people use gondolas instead, as their streets are canals. Our first ride in a gondola stirred us up alright but we soon got used to it and left the city feeling as if we had been brought up in a gondola. The many points of interest in Venice cannot be crowded into a newspaper article but I cannot refrain from mentioning St. Marks and the Doges Palace and the palace and the prison and the Bridge of Sighs, of which every one who reads at all has read something. We attended mass in Saint Marks and went through the immense structure and on through the Doges Palace. There were in all 120 Doges which were simply Governors and 27 of them are buried in and around St Marks and the Palace. The Guides tell you that the body of St. Mark is buried here but we take such statement with a pinch of salt.

After one has seen the bones of the three wise men and the clothes they wore when they visited Bethlehem, and the water pots in which Jesus made wine and the chain that bound Peter in prison and the walking stick he used in his old age an enough pieces of the cross and thorns from the crown to fill a cart his credulity begins to weaken and he needs help to believe some things he hears and thinks he sees. One thing we saw that we were sure of was the pigeons in St. Marks square and they are kind of Epluribus unum—many in one, because there are thousands of them and they are petted by all visitors. Many shops around the square sell shelled pop corn in cornucopias for five centimes—equal to one cent American money, and all day long one sees people feeding the pigeons of St. Marks and the pigeons like it and will light on the stranger and eat from his hand as easily as if they had always been friends. Florence is another place in which we found many things to interest us but I do not have time to tell about them now. The Cathedral here is one of the most attractive, from the outside in Europe, being next to the Cathedral in Cologne, Germany though its interior does not appeal to me so strongly as some of the other Cathedrals and particularly as does the Cologne and St. Paul Cathedrals. But the "Portiere" is calling me to breakfast and after breakfast we must take a boat for Capri and so I close. I wish I could go to an American church today but I cannot.

JOHN MITCHELL FOR GOVERNOR

Mentioned As a Possible Candidate
On Republican Ticket in New York

New York, Aug.—S. The name of John Mitchell, former president of the United Mine Workers of America, was mentioned as a possible candidate for the republican nomination for governor of New York in a conference between Theodore Roosevelt and state party leaders.

Mr. Roosevelt would not comment on it futher than to say that he valued Mr. Mitchell very highly and when in the white house had numbered him among the men on whom he depended for assistance.

Mr. Mitchell has been a resident of Mt Vernon, a suburb of New York city for two years. He is chairman of the trade agreement committee of the National Civic Federation. Although he is now known as a republican he has been so little of a partisan that in the last national campaign he was mentioned as a possible candidate for the democratic nominee for vice president.

Surprise to Mitchell

Seranton, Pa., Aug. 5.—John Mitchell, who is spending a few days with friends at Lake Ariel, near here, was asked tonight about the suggestion to make him the republican candidate for governor of New York, but he declined to make any comment. Friends who are with him at the lake said that the report of the movement proved a complete surprise to Mr. Mitchell.

Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Jones, of Crayne, accompanied by their daughter, Miss Girtie, were in Marion trading Friday. Miss Girtie is one of the many fair candidates in the Record-Press Piano contest and is doing nicely, bringing in quite a number of votes and subscriptions.

New school shoes, gingham, woolen goods and everything you will need to get your children ready for school.

THE OLD HURICANE CAMPGROUND

The Most Noted Place of Worship in the State to be Opened on Thursday, Aug. 25.

On Thursday, August, 25th the noted old Hurricane Campgrounds will be opened to the public for a period of ten days, closing Sunday, Sept., 4th.

The workers of the meeting are: Rev. J. J. Smith, Rev. R. H. Higgin, Rev. R. C. Love, with Rev. W. L. Shell to lead the singing.

All know of these Annual Meetings and Love-Feasts and the great good accomplished by them, many holding the Old Camp Ground as sacred as Jerusalem is to the Jews. And as the years go by the more the old spot is loved, perhaps because our precious old mothers and grandmothers loved it. Any way there is something about the sacred old spot that draws the Christian to it and from the preparations being made for the coming event, if it does not prove the largest attended and best enjoyed in many years, there is nothing in signs.

TO THE FARMERS

To the tobacco growers of Crittenden county, I desire to say that I have been elected Chairman of the county board for the Stemming District Tobacco Association. Owing to some dissatisfaction that arose during the sale and delivery of the 1909 crop. There is a lot of farmers who have not pooled their 1910 crop yet. To them I will say, if you desire to pool in our association, I will endeavor to have all grievances removed and when sale is made those living near the Providence district should be allowed to deliver there for convenience.

In 1907 when you honored me with this same position I went to Henderson on the first Saturday of September of that year with less than 900 acres of Crittenden Co., tobacco pooled. We sold that crop at 8 cts. after that sale, we pooled for the next year about 3300 acres. Before this crop was sold. My time expired as chairman, my worthy successor has had control of your tobacco for two years. Last year we pooled about 1500 acres in our county. And I am sorry to say that so far this year we have a small acreage pooled.

But I hope that after reading this article that you will forget the past and look to the future and honor me by pooling your tobacco. Furthermore I am proud to say, that we have two associations in existence in this county. Therefore let every man choose for himself the place to pool. We are all fighting the same common enemy, the tobacco trust. Hoping that every tobacco grower in the county will pool in one or the other. Thanking you for past honor I remain Yours as ever,

AARON TOWERY,
Chr. of Co., Board.

HOME ENDORSEMENT Hundreds of Marion Citizens Can Tell You All About It.

Home endorsement, the public expression of Marion people, should be evidence beyond dispute for every Marion reader. Surely the experience of friends and neighbors, cheerfully given by them, will carry more weight than the utterances of strangers residing in faraway places. Read the following:

William Redd, farmer, Marion, Ky., says: "I was subject to sharp twinges through my loins when I stooped or lifted and was also troubled by a pain in my back. At night I had an acute backache and when I arose in the morning, I was very lame. I tired easily, felt dull and languid and at times was nervous. The kidney secretions were too frequent in passage and I was obliged to arise three or four times at night. Learning of Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box at Haynes & Taylor's Drug Store and after using them about three days, I received such great relief that I continued taking them until I was cured."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Robert Jenkins spent Friday and Saturday in Eddyville Ky.

Mesdames Geo. Roberts and Mrs. W. N. and children will leave this week for Kuttawa Springs to spend a week.

FOR CONSTIPATION

A Medicine that Does Not Cost Anything Unless it Cures.

The active medicinal ingredients of Rexall Orderlies, which is odorless, tasteless and colorless, is an entirely new discovery. Combined with other extremely valuable ingredients, it forms a perfect bowel regulator, intestinal invigorator and strengthener. Rexall Orderlies are eaten like candy and are notable for their agreeableness to the palate and gentleness of action. They do not cause griping or any disagreeable effect or inconvenience.

Unlike other preparations for a like purpose, they do not create a habit, but instead they overcome the cause of habit acquired through the use of ordinary laxatives, cathartics and harsh physic, and permanently remove the cause of constipation or irregular bowel action.

We will refund your money without argument if they do not do as we say they will. Two sizes, 25c. and 10c. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store, Haynes & Taylor.

Misses Francis Blue Katie Yates Katie Yandell and Madeline Jenkins camped at Hill Spring for the past ten days.

Miss Linda Jenkins left Friday afternoon for Eddyville Ky to spend a week with relatives.
